Jason Allen King is a comedian, actor, writer and award-winning filmmaker from Charlotte, North Carolina. With one-of-a-kind life experiences and a passion for performing, King takes audiences to new heights. He is the youngest in a large family, which drives much of his comedic style.

You can find him touring the country playing a variety of clubs and venues. He has opened for renowned comedians such as Brent Morin, Steve Rannazzisi, Jeff Dye, John Reep, Burt Kreisler, Christopher Titus, Colin Quinn, Bill Burr and Dave Attell.

An official selection of the 2017 Burbank Comedy Festival, King was voted into Best Of The Fest.

He writes and stars in the popular web series “George & Monty” on FunnyOrDie.com, which was invited to screen at the L.A. Comedy Shorts Festival.

King is a contributing writer for TheKnaq.com, and contributing writer/producer at Fourth Ward Productions where he has written and developed commercials for Myrtle Beach Toursim, Savvy & Company and Dirt Devil, among others.
