

JASON ALLEN KING

COMEDIAN WRITER
ACTOR

Jason Allen King is a comedian, writer, actor, filmmaker, and birdwatcher from Charlotte, NC. Drawing on his personal experiences, King delivers a sharp perspective on everyday life with a dash of self-deprecation.

Fresh off the release of his Dry Bar Comedy Special "Nobody's Emergency Contact," he's back on tour and working with comedy greats everywhere. He recently won the NC's Funniest Person Competition at Goodnight's Comedy Club in Raleigh, NC. He was voted Best Charlotte Comedian by Queen City Nerve, three times voted Charlotte's Favorite Comedian by Elevate Lifestyle, and featured in It's A Southern Thing's "15 Southern Comics to Watch," King continues to captivate audiences nationwide.

As the Host and Producer of the Who's Headlining Anyway? podcast, and a comedy tour of the same name, King covers all things comedy and beyond. He also wrote, produced, and stars in the mockumentary film "This is George & Monty," winning festivals and awards across the country. King's film credits also include award-winning projects like "Pink" (Amazon Prime) and "Little Package" (YouTube). As a writer/producer, he has contributed to feature films and national campaigns for brands like NASCAR, Dirt Devil, Sheetz, and the Alzheimer's Association.
